Kissinger Speaks To United Nations

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger today told the U.N. General Assembly there can be no further delay in strengthening the organization's peacekeeping operations.

In his first major appearance since becoming secretary of state, Kissinger stressed philosophy and downplayed specific proposals for dealing with the world's problems.

He made only scattered and general references to the Mideast conflict and no direct reference to fears of an impending oil shortage.

Kissinger gave credit to past U.N. efforts in discussing the need to go past current bigpower efforts at relaxing tensions to a state of peace.

The organization, he said, "has shown its ability for effective fact-finding, mediation and peacekeeping missions.

"This central aspect of the United Nations' work must be strengthened."

As in most of the 35-minute speech, he made no specific proposals for reaching that goal. Instead he said "the United States is prepared to consider how the Security Council can play a more central role in the conduct of peacekeeping operations."

Kissinger had made it clear even before his speech that he would not break new ground or announce major policy departures. He felt to do so would be a phony gesture, U.S. delegation officials reported. They said the purpose of his appearance was rather to make a general statement and enlist the aid and inspiration of the United Nations in an effort to achieve a lasting peace.

Albert Refutes Nixon Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker Carl Albert says President Nixon's recent criticisms of Congress are "little more than feeble attempts to disguise the administration's own glaring failures."

"The workload of this Congress has been heavy and the legislative output impressive," the Oklahoma Democrat said in a nationwide radio address Sunday. "To date, Congress has enacted 107 new public laws. And we are not through yet."

Meanwhile, resumption of the Watergate hearings after a seven-week interruption and a battle over military spending top today's Senate agenda.

E. Howard Hunt Jr., convicted in the Watergate breakin, led the witness list for the new round of hearings.

A bill authorizing $20.4 billion in defense spending is expected to be under Senate consideration most of the week, with the Trident submarine

Arms Hunt Narrows In Santiago

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — The army cordoned off 10 blocks of midtown Santiago today as it pressed a search for illegal arms and supporters of the late President Salvador Allende.

The chief target in the area appeared to be a large block of apartments, many of which were assigned to officials in the Allende regime. A number of foreigners also lived there.

Along with the campaign to "exterminate Marxism," the junta was trying to reorganize the economy to curb the runaway inflation that in 12 months reached nearly 325 per cent.

"We will all have to tighten our belts," said the air force member of the junta, Gen. Gustavo Leigh.

Shops throughout Santiago and other cities have begun to sell essential items at prices set by the government.

Leigh also said that "the doors will be opened to foreign capital seeking a place in Chile."

He said foreign investors would be guaranteed against expropriation, but he indicated that there would be no rollback of Allende's nationalization of the copper mines and other major American investments.

President's Popularity Shows Drop

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The Gallup Poll says its most recent survey indicates a slight decrease in President Nixon's popularity.

Gallup said 55 per cent of the 1,463 adults surveyed in the Sept. 7-10 poll said they disapprove of Nixon's performance in office and 35 per cent said they approved.

In a poll taken three weeks earlier, after the President's latest televised speech about Watergate, 38 per cent approved Nixon's performance, 54 per cent disapproved and eight per cent had no opinion.

Also in the new poll, 72 per cent of those surveyed said they believe Nixon planned, knew of or helped cover up the bugging of Democratic National Headquarters at the Watergate complex in Washington, D.C. This was a drop of one point from the earlier poll.

Respondents in the latest poll were asked: "Do you approve or disapprove of the way Nixon is handling his job as President? How strongly would you say you approve or disapprove—very strongly or not so strongly?"

Seventeen per cent approved strongly, 18 per cent approved mildly, 16 per cent disapproved mildly and 39 per cent disapproved strongly. Ten per cent expressed no opinion.

Nixon's popularity reached its lowest point, 31 per cent approval, in early August during televised Watergate hearings. His highest level, 68 per cent approval, occurred last January after the Vietnam settlement.

Watergate Panel Hears Hunt Testimony Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — E. Howard Hunt Jr. testified today that Charles W. Colson was among those approving the "Gemstone" intelligence scheme that included the Watergate wiretapping.

Hunt, in a statement prepared for the Senate's resumed Watergate hearings, said he understood the Gemstone counter-intelligence plan was requested by former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, former Nixon campaign deputy Jeb Stuart Magruder and ousted White House counsel John W. Dean III.

"Later I learned that Charles W. Colson, special counsel to the President, had approved it, too," Hunt said.

Colson has denied any advance knowledge of the Watergate wiretapping. In a private session with the Senate Watergate committee, Colson refused to answer questions on grounds he might incriminate himself.

Hunt, a 21-year veteran of the Central Intelligence Agency, said Colson recommended him for a job on the White House staff in 1971 because there was a need for his skills as a spy.

He said he and G. Gordon Liddy arranged a break-in at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist in September of that year because "of the belief that Dr. Ellsberg or his associates were providing classified information to the Soviet Union."

He said former White House aide Egil Krogh approved that break-in.

Later, after Liddy moved from the White House staff to President Nixon's re-election campaign, Hunt said he and Liddy designed a budget for a large-scale counter-intelligence program requested by Mitchell, who became director of the re-election campaign.

North Viets Take Ranger Base In South

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops, advancing behind a curtain of artillery fire, apparently over-ran a government ranger base in the central highlands of South Vietnam during the weekend, the Saigon command announced today.

Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, the chief spokesman for the command, reported radio contact with the Le Minh ranger base 23 miles west of Pleiku was lost Saturday evening after five hours of heavy fighting.

He said the base nine miles from the Cambodian border was defended by a battalion of about 400 rangers, about half of them Montagnard tribesmen.

The opening North Vietnamese barrage knocked out a number of installations at the base including the radio antenna, Hien reported. He said waves of infantry rushed the wire perimeter in the wake of the shelling.

"We believe the base was overrun," said Hien. But he reported reconnaissance aircraft have spotted surviving rangers still operating in the area around the base.

It was the first time a government camp of such size has been over-run since the Jan. 28 cease-fire, and the government indicated its capture could touch off a sharp increase of fighting in the central highlands region.

"It is our principle to do the best we can to retake any territory which has been captured by the Communists since the cease-fire," said Hien.

"The base is located on an infiltration corridor and we believe they wanted to get rid of it to make their infiltration of war materials and troops into Pleiku and Kontum easier."

The North Vietnamese attack apparently took the garrison by surprise, and it did not call in air support before the camp's radio was knocked out.

Hunt said the Watergate burglary grew out of the Gemstone intelligence scheme.

Hunt, who pleaded guilty to wiretapping, burglary and conspiracy in the Watergate case, is seeking to have his guilty plea set aside and all charges against him dropped. Among other things, he says he thought the wiretapping was legal.

"I thought it was an unwise operation, but I viewed it as legal," Hunt said. He said Liddy told him there was reason to believe the Democrats were getting money from the Communist government of Cuba.

Skylab Crewmen Set Return Home

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Skylab 2 astronauts performed clean-up chores in their space station today to prepare for Tuesday's end of their record 59½-day orbital journey.

Alan L. Bean, Owen K. Garriott and Jack R. Lousma planned to spend all of their last full day in space tidying the craft for the eight-week visit by the Skylab 3 crew starting Nov. 11.

Included is the transfer of film, tapes and equipment from the space laboratory into the Apollo ferry ship and the shutting down of systems not needed during the nearly seven weeks the station will be unmanned.

At 3:50 p.m. EDT Tuesday, the astronauts will leave the lab and start maneuvering the Apollo back to earth. Splashdown is scheduled for 6:20 p.m. in the Pacific Ocean about 225 miles southwest of San Diego, Calif.

The astronauts are to be plucked from the sea by the recovery carrier USS New Orleans and taken immediately to an on-board medical facility. Doctors will try to determine whether they suffered any adverse effect from their long exposure to the space environment.

Bean, Garriott and Lousma gathered the final in-flight physical data on themselves Sunday, drawing blood and taking readings from various medical monitors.

Dr. Jerry Hordinsky, one of the flight surgeons at mission control, reported that the three are in excellent physical shape.

And the astronauts' chief physician, Dr. Royce Hawkins, said he expected them to experience no more difficulty readjusting to earth's gravity than did the Skylab 1 crew after 28 days aboard

Poet Neruda Dies In Chile

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Pablo Neruda, a poet and a Communist who in 1971 won Chile's second Nobel Prize for Literature, has died of cancer at 69.

Neruda resigned last November as President Salvador Allende's ambassador to France because of illness and in July was operated on for cancer of the prostate. He was hospitalized again five days ago.

His wife and his sister were at his bedside when he died Sunday night.

Neruda was one of the most influential literary figures in the Spanish language. He was also an active member of the Chilean Communist party for a quarter of a century and a personal friend of Allende.

There was speculation that the military junta which overthrew Allende on Sept. 11 would sanction only a private funeral for the poet because a state of emergency is still in force. After Allende's overthrow and death, there were rumors that Neruda had been arrested. But the junta denied them and said it respected his literary achievements even though he was a member of the Communist party.

His most notable works included the gently erotic "Twenty Poems of Love and One Desperate Song," "Residence on Earth," "Spain in My Heart" and "Canto General," published in 1950 and quickly accepted as the leading epic of Latin American man. Politics did not figure greatly in Neruda's early poems, but in later years he utilized his literary prestige throughout the world to advance his political views. He readily acknowledged himself as a politically militant poet.

Mostly sunny today, high, near 80. Cloudy tonight and Tuesday with chance of showers. Low tonight near 60. High Tuesday, near 80. Possibility of rain, 10 per cent today, 30 per cent tonight and 40 per cent tomorrow.

"I deeply regret that I had any part in this affair. I think it was an unfortunate use of executive power and I am sorry that I did not have the wisdom to withdraw," Hunt said.

Hunt said his part in the cover-up of the Watergate affair seemed natural to him because of his CIA experience. When CIA spies are caught, "it has been universally the practice for the operation to be disavowed and 'covered up,'" he said.

"Usually, this has been done by official intervention with law enforcement authorities. In addition, the employing governments have paid legal defense fees," he said.

But Hunt denied that he asked the White House for presidential clemency, or that he tried to blackmail the White House for money.

"I did not ask for clemency," he said. "I did seek ... funds, but I made no threats."

Former presidential counsel Dean and others have accused Hunt of trying to blackmail the White House for clemency and money by threatening to disclose the Ellsberg burglary and other "seamy things" he did while employed at the White House.

Fuel Rationing Last Step Left For Government?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has gone almost three-quarters of the way toward rationing under its fuel-shortage contingency plan but is saving rationing as a last resort.

The contingency plan, never officially released, outlines four stages of increasing fuel conservation beginning with voluntary public restraint in consumption and ending with fullscale rationing.

The plan says rationing "would only be considered in an extreme situation if a serious or prolonged shortage threatened and if it appeared that other measures could not assure equitable distribution to meet essential needs."

Officials say the present fuel pinch is nowhere near that bad.

They also say the contingency plan is only a "working draft" that has not been adopted. But they have already put into action most of the measures in the plan's first three stages.

The White House Energy Policy

Office refused to release the contingency plan late last week, but a newsman was allowed to inspect a copy in another office.

The plan suggests that official appeals for voluntary fuel conservation could make up for shortages up to five per cent.

To cope with a 10 per cent shortage, it says, fuel price increases could be applied to discourage consumption.

As shortages increase, the contingency plan says, the government could establish fuel-use priorities and could allocate available fuels through wholesale distribution systems to priority users.

As a last resort, in severe shortages, the plan would provide for direct rationing of gasoline to motorists, heating oil to homeowners and factories, and other petroleum products to their users.

The plan suggests that gasoline alone might be rationed in summer, the peak demand season, and all fuels might be rationed in winter.

$155 Million Available For Housing In 3 States

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Federal Home Loan Bank of Cincinnati today moved to shore up the building and home mortgage industries by making $155 million available in Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee.

Nationally, $2.5 billion was made available to savings and loan institutions as a follow to President Nixon's recent housing message to Congress.

"What we are doing," explained Albert C. Crew, president of the Cincinnati office, "is encouraging savings and loan companies by making available to them money at a fixed rate."

He said the associations will then be able to permit home builders to make plans for reopening construction six months to a year from now. The funds will be available at that time but the loans are guaranteed now, Crew said.

The interest rate to the associations, some 536 in the three states, will be 8½ per cent. Crew said Home Federal must borrow the money on the open market at prime rate. He said this would be about eight per cent.

The loan guarantees, however, apply only to homes and multiple dwellings, no commercial-venture loans will be permitted.

Crew also said he hoped that interest

More Women Broadcasting?

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Broadcast stations around the country will have to hire more women and minority group members or face action from the Federal Communications Commission, an FCC member says.

Ben L. Hooks, a former Memphis judge and the only black on the FCC, issued the warning before a regional meeting of the American Women in Radio and Television.

"I'm hoping it'll not take court action or denial of licenses," he said.

rates will begin dropping six months to a year from now "and we can turn around this inflation."

"We are offering the money in an attempt to keep the bottom from dropping out of the building industry and at the same time make mortgage money available for home buying."

The Federal Home Loan Bank, created by Congress in 1932, lends money to savings and loan institutions, but not to banks.

There are 12 regional banks in the United States for this purpose.

"This is an attempt," said Dr. Charles Thiemann, senior vice president of the Cincinnati office, "is to tell builders to go ahead and make plans for 1974."

Showers Diminish Across U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thundershowers diminished today after broad areas of the nation were soaked much of Sunday.

A band of thundershowers from New Mexico to South Dakota drifted eastward. A few showers and thundershowers fanned out of Texas into Arkansas. Numerous thundershowers dampened Florida and others lingered along the New England coast.

A storm in the Pacific Northwest scattered rain into Idaho and northern California as a new storm formed for a march on the coast.

Snow was expected down to the 6,000-foot level in the northern California mountains tonight.

Rains were generally light, measuring less than a half inch in most places.

Skies were clear in the Great Lakes region and the Southwest.

Tornadoes were sighted near Lamar, Colo., and Valentine, Neb., Sunday night.

Copter Crashes; Pilot Uninjured

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP) — A helicopter loaded with 60 gallons of weed spray crashed shortly after takeoff here Monday.

The pilot, James M. Harral, 28, of Circleville, was not injured. Harral had just loaded the copter, owned by Arch Associates Ltd. of Circleville, at the Washington Court House Crop Service.

He had cleared a series of power lines and had reached an altitude of about 25 feet when the craft apparently lost power and crashed in a soybean field.

During his training, he learned all phases of the firing and tracking systems of this air defense weapon.

The Vulcan is a 20MM automatic six-barrel gun mounted on a self-propelled armored personnel carrier and is designed primarily for anti-aircraft defense.

His wife, Deborah, lives in Laurelville.

Army Specialist Five David L. Adams, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Adams, Route 1, Kingston, was presented the good conduct medal at Camp Humphreys, Korea.

The medal, established in 1941, is awarded on a selective basis for those who distinguish themselves from among their fellow military personnel through exemplary conduct, efficiency and fidelity during their active military service.

Dear friends,

A college for funeral directors states as a requisite: "A sincere desire to help other people at the time of need. If you can honestly say 'I like to help people', and mean it beyond any immediate material compensation, you have a desirable basis for selecting funeral service as a career."

We think this is well stated.

License-Bond Law Goes Into Effect

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — As of today, Ohioans arrested for most minor traffic violations and without bond money won't necessarily have to go to jail—if they have a valid driver's license.

This is the effective date of a new law enacted by the 110th General Assembly that allows the use of an Ohio driver's license as bond in all but the more serious types of driving violations.

Notable exceptions are vehicular homicide, reckless operation, driving while intoxicated, and disobeying or interfering with a traffic officer.

A license could be used as bond on such charges as speeding, illegal parking or running a red light. The arresting officer still has the right to refuse to accept the license as bond, and the motorist doesn't have to offer it.

If the license is accepted, then the officer gives the accused offender a form that allows him to drive his car until the time his case comes up in court.

Rep. Irene Smart, D-49 Canton, sponsored the bill in the legislature. Until its enactment, "people have had to go to jail because they were unable to contact relatives or others in order to procure cash deposit," she said.

Mrs. Smart pointed out that if a person fails to appear in court after

The new law prohibits issuance of a new license for one year after a valid license has been cancelled, unless the court makes a request that the license be reissued.

Besides the convenience the law will give to motorists, Mrs. Smart said it has an added benefit to the public through better use of officers of the Ohio Highway Patrol and other authorities.

She said "there may be a reduction in the amount of time state highway patrolmen and other law enforcement officers must spend off the road in taking persons in to post bond," she said.

A Page Of Opinion

Calling Marshall Dillon

Rustling never completely died out, but it has now reached a scale which old-time rustlers probably never dreamed of.

While steers are still a favorite target of thieves specializing in four-footed animals, pigs, chickens and anything else with adequate poundage have been taken in late night forays.

As in former times, there is talk of vigilante action. In Illinois, which counted nearly 1,000 head of cattle stolen in the first six months this year—twice as many as in all of 1972, and a record for the state—nighttime surveillance of the herds is seriously considered.

Branding is not as effective as it once was in determining ownership, because many rustlers today butcher the animal where they find it and leave the hide behind. If, as it appears, rustling has become a crime of individuals rather than gangs, it will be more difficult to control.

Modern rustlers also have greater mobility, frequently operating along modern highways. But the modern vigilante has a similar advantage.

Leniency of courts when rustlers are brought in probably is as much responsible for the increase in this crime as anything. Rustlers of old were not pampered.

Can't Afford Arab Oil

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Israel's Golda Meir told NBC's Barbara Walters that she didn't believe the U. S. government or the U. S. people would sell out Israel for oil. But there may be some ugly moments before an aroused U. S. citizenry takes the measure of the more extreme ecologists who persist in making it difficult for President Nixon to carry out an energy policy that will take proper advantage of our own manifold resources, from Alaskan and offshore oil to western low-sulfur coal.

Saudi Arabia's King Faisal has issued a tacit threat to the U. S. that he won't permit any increase in his country's oil flow unless Israel comes to terms with Egypt's demands. If Faisal means business, it will put such big companies as Standard Oil of California, Texaco, Exxon, and Mobil on the spot. With predictions that U. S. dependence on foreign oil will rise from some $4 billion a year as of now to $30 billion a year in 1985 (the projection comes from the Energy Economics Division of the Chase Manhattan Bank), the preoccupation of the big oil importers with Arab politics is understandable. Their share of $30 billion would be a lot to lose.

Common sense, however, should be enough to tell us that the U. S. will never be able to swallow a $30 billion annual bill for imported energy. As the Chase bank economists themselves point out, such a bill would leave us with as much as a $25 billion deficit on our annual foreign trade account. The point would be quickly reached when the dollar would be so degraded that nobody could accept payment in it at any exchange rate now predictable. The Arabs, tired of taking rapidly depreciating currency for their oil, would soon turn to other customers, and Standard of California would surely lose its Saudi Arabian stake to expropriation.

So it is not fundamentally a question of whether we would sell out Golda Meir's Israel; it is a question of what we are prepared to do to keep from selling out ourselves. We face a most gloomy future if we continue to let the wilder ecologists exercise their present veto on the major things that are necessary to make us less dependent on oil from overseas. Amid the clamors of Watergate this column has kept plugging for action to unleash the sort of enterprise that put the U. S. in the forefront of energy production before Ralph Nader, that genius of the negative approach, succeeded in scaring our politicians out of their wits.

There is little sense in applying Santa Barbara Channel standards, which must reckon with earthquakes, to oil exploration in such stable geological areas as the New England coast. In the first place, leaks in stable possesses 11 billion tons that are 100 per cent low-sulfur, and the Union Pacific has 10 billions tons that are rated at 50 per cent low-sulfur in content. The Naderites object to strip mining the West to bring air-conditioning to Eastern cities, but the art of restoring strip-mined areas is progressing all the time. The Pacific Power and Light Company has spent as much as $700 an acre on topsoil restoration, straw mulching and the planting of wheatgrass seedlings to bring back the areas it has denuded by mining low-sulfur coal in Wyoming.

The U. S. will have its troubles in making itself relatively self-sufficient for energy, but the job must be done. No foreign trade deficit of $25 billion a year can possibly be contemplated.

areas are not likely, and if they do occur they are subject to quick detection. Secondly, the damages of the Santa Barbara leak have turned out to be negligible if the investigation undertaken by Dr. Dale Straughan of the University of Southern California's Allan Hancock Foundation is definitive. Ralph Nader might object to the source of Dr. Straughan's funds, which came from the Western Oil and Gas Association. But figures are figures, and the fact that the fishery landings in Santa Barbara were not affected by the oil spill should do much to reassure New Englanders who might fear for their lobsters.

The U. S. has big deposits of low-sulfur coal that have never been exploited. The Burlington Northern

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The latest international currency exchange rates indicate why speculators in recent years often have found more action in money than in stocks.

The currency realignment has been vast—produced mainly by two U.S. dollar devaluations but also by different economic growth rates, for which national currency values are symbols.

Speculators depend upon change. Betting that one currency will become stronger than another, they move their funds from the weak to the strong.

And in so doing, these speculators—often vast multinational corporations and banks—tend to exaggerate the effect they foresee.

Here, measured as of Sept. 18 by Morgan Guaranty Trust Co., are the effective rate changes of some major currencies, compared with their pre-June 1970 parties:

U.S. dollar, down 19.71 per cent; British pound, down 22.87 per cent; German mark, up 19.74 per cent; Dutch guilder, up 6.84 per cent; Italian lira, down 17.60 per cent; Japanese yen, up 21.58 per cent.

The dollar's value decline has given a twist to an old European phobia. During the 1960s they feared an American takeover of their industry. On a more limited scale, some Americans now fear foreign domination.

Because of the slump in U.S. stocks that makes the shares of some solid companies worth less than their book value and because of the relatively greater buying power of their money, foreigners now are buying U.S. industry.

The Conference Board, a business research and educational organization, calculates that direct foreign investment in U.S. corporations rose from $3.4 billion in 1950 to $6.9 billion in 1960 to $13.7 billion in 1971. And the trend has accelerated sharply since then.

Many shares that are selling for less than 10 times earnings represent companies that Europeans and others had thought just a few years ago soon would dominate their economies and their lives.

And while the Europeans and Japanese apparently recognize the futility of ever controlling some of the largest American companies, they are bidding with growing fervor for second tier corporations.

Banks, retailers, manufacturers, food distributors are on the list of those already purchased, actively sought or believed to be under consideration.

Prices Expected To Taper Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House says the latest jump in the cost of living is only temporary, and prices should soon taper off "to a reasonable level" under President Nixon's anti-inflation programs.

However, Friday's report that consumer prices climbed another 1.8 per cent in August prompted sharp criticism of Nixon's economic programs by AFL-CIO President George Meany.

Meany said the figures were "complete proof of the utter incompetence of this administration."

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

In reply to Allen Strous's letter of August 29 in which he points out that housing construction is occurring in his part of the county on good farmland and in wooded areas although we, the public, have need to preserve farm and woodlands: The Pickaway County Regional Planning Commission is very conscious of the character of the site of each proposed lot and subdivision and attempts, through review of proposed subdivisions and small single lots, to protect the health and well-being of the future home dwellers by assuring that the proposed lots are suitable for the proposed purpose. For instance, the lot must be safe from flooding and have adequate provisions for sanitary waste disposal before the Planning Commission will authorize it for a home site, and just recently the Planning Commission instigated the practice of warning all prospective lot buyers or builders if their lot is in an area where well water is apt to be scarce.

Therefore, the Planning Commission is regulating and guiding development to some extent. However, preserving good farm or woodlands has to be accomplished through zoning. Each township in the county, except Salt Creek Township, does have zoning now. Such zoning regulations can be revised as required to guide development to areas where development is wanted, and can limit development where it is not wanted. If zoning by townships becomes too much of a burden upon township officials, county-wide zoning which is administered by county officials, can be voted into being by the citizenry.

The aim of the Pickaway County Regional Planning Commission is to help the legal governments and the citizens, including developers, make decisions regarding land use that will lead to a good future. As Mr. Strous said "succeeding generations must live with the decisions their ancestors made".

Very truly yours,
NED HARDEN, Chairman
Pickaway Co. Regional Planning Commission

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have been told that the fat pad in my metatarsal has disappeared. The pain is excruciating when I walk on anything but the smoothest surface. What can be done to help me. I am 62 years old and walk considerably in my work.

Mr. O. M., Maine.

Dear Mr. O. M.:

Many people with a high arch, after years of pounding, are bothered by the pain you describe.

When once the fat pad is no longer present it becomes important to find ways of protecting the underlying bone. All kinds of devices have been created using soft rubber, foam rubber, and styrene protective pads.

There are many ways you can again be given foot comfort. Each case must be individually evaluated to find the ideal protective method.

It is too bad that so many young people neglect their feet until a problem later arises. These are not easily reversible. Calluses, corns, warts, and structural changes of the feet are often overlooked for years. Neglect is followed by the penalty you now pay as an adult.

Poorly fitting shoes invite painful pressure areas that often result in permanent changes.

When blood is taken from the vein, it is poured into a special thin tube. The speed with which the blood cell settle to the bottom is known as the sedimentation rate. This rate is increased in the presence of infections and some other conditions and is used as a guide to recovery.

They'll Do It Every Time

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Living Will Foe

DEAR ABBY: I was alarmed when I read an item in your column encouraging your readers to send for "A Living Will," instructing one's clergyman, physician, attorney, and some appointed family members (or friends) to let him die with dignity when all agreed that death was inevitable. I failed to write at the time to express my horror. But now that I hear that you were responsible for distributing hundreds of thousands of these Living Wills, I can no longer remain silent.

Mercy killings is an unspeakable evil, and our country must not permit such a crime. We should respect the gift of life and preserve and protect it. The plea that it would be "merciful" to end a life should signal a second look to be sure the desire did not stem from a weariness of the persons caring for (and paying for) the one who is ill.

Suffering is difficult to watch, but it oftentimes leads a person to a deeper awareness of his human destiny. It builds strength and character.

I am sorry to see you pushing this Living Will so hard. You have millions of readers and could be a force for good instead of this type of thing.

People should trust in God, and let HIM decide when life should end. Why would YOU trust to decide when ABBY shall die?

You have given the Living Will enough publicity. Please, be fair, and print this to show the other side.

AGE 64 IN ALBUQUERQUE

DEAR 64: The Living Will is simply a document instructing my OWN clergyman, physician, lawyer, and selected members of my family (or even a few trusted friends) to allow me to die when they all agree that there is no hope for my recovery (physical or mental... I am not saying that YOU, or anyone else should express this wish. I am saying that this wish is MINE, and I would hope that those who love me would respect my wishes. This doesn't suggest that I be "killed." It simply means that I do not want my life to be prolonged by artificial means when my physicians agree that all hope for life is gone, or should I lose my sense of reason.

This letter from a Fort Myers reader illustrated my point more graphically:

DEAR ABBY: My husband was in and out of hospitals for 12 years. The last 10 months I was at his bedside every day from 10 a.m. until midnight.

I watched him being kept alive with blood transfusions, needles, tubes, and drugs, while he prayed for God to take him. He couldn't swallow. I gave him water with an eye dropper.

This handsome, husky 200-pound man became an 88-pound vegetable when God finally took him home.

May the day come soon when everyone will be able to die with dignity. Don't let people tell you that you have no right to interfere with God's decision by suggesting that they sign a Living Will. It's those folks who permit tubes and needles and machines to prolong life artificially when death is inevitable who are interfering with God's will.

I will take the word of my clergyman, doctors, lawyers and the selected members of my own family when they agree that my life has run its course.

I am not afraid to die, but I never want to put my loved ones through what I went through with my husband. Keep up the good work, Abby. And God bless you.

Men Survive For 70 Days On Capsized Boat In Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — After surviving for two months and 10 days on sardines, peanut butter and rainwater, two men rescued from their capsized trihulled boat in the Pacific were in good condition today.

James Fisher, 26, bound for missionary work in Central America, and Robert Tininenko, 34, a school teacher, were aboard the British container ship Benalder in "weak but unusually good condition despite their ordeal," a Coast Guard spokesman said.

"They weren't even sunburned," said Lt. Cmdr. John Lynker. "Public health officials have been in touch; and except for slightly erratic pulses, they apparently are in good condition."

The Benalder, assuming there were no survivors, nearly bypassed the men after sighting the capsized trimaran and a red flag Friday.

But at the Coast Guard's request, it agreed to turn back and check the hull for identification. Four hours later, Fisher and Tininenko were pulled from the sea about 900 miles southwest of here — midway between San Diego and Honolulu.

The men told their rescuers that Tininenko's wife, Linda, 24, had died Aug. 11, a month after their 31-foot homemade sailboat, Triton, capsized. The Coast Guard said it was not known how she died.

The three had departed Tacoma,

Food Bank Plan Being Proposed By Economists

WASHINGTON (AP) — Food from around the world would be deposited in an international food bank to be withdrawn in times of famine, under a proposal by a group of economists.

The costs of accumulating and saving the food stocks would be shared by the world's industrial nations.

The food could be withdrawn from the bank to meet serious shortages or to help developing countries with inadequate food supplies.

The proposal was made Friday by economists from North America, Europe and Japan after a three-day conference here on world agricultural policy.

Expect Steel Allocations To Continue Through Year

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Steel allocations by the manufacturers are likely to continue through next year, Industry Week magazine said Monday.

It said that even if steel demand declines 10 to 15 per cent next year, the supply still will be tight because mills don't have the four million to five million tons of inventory to ship from as they did this year.

"This inventory, built in the slack year of 1972, is about gone and with demand continuing at record levels steel companies have had no chance to rebuild it," the magazine said.

It added that there is no assurance that steel demand will decline.

"Although automotive companies are not expected to take the record amounts of steel they have this year, the capital goods market is booming," Industry Week said. "In 1974, demand from the latter sector is expected to more than make up for the possible loss of a couple million tons of steel to automotive customers."

The magazine said demands from auto companies for new types of high-strength steel, as part of their weight reduction campaign, also could eventually exert an additional load on the mills.

"There are various ways to achieve higher strength in steel sheets; some of them would mean running rolling mills at a reduced pace," it explained.

Industry Week said shipments from U. S. steel mills next year likely will barely top 100 million tons compared with 107 million to 108.5 million tons this year.

It estimated raw steel output last week at 2,875,000 net tons compared with 2,886,000 tons the previous week.

The magazine's price composite on No. 1 heavy melting steelmaking scrap rose to $59 per gross ton last week from the preceding week's $58.33.

MR. AND MRS. SHAROLD RAY NOBLE

Miss Vickie Marie Stevens Bride Of Sharold Ray Noble

Miss Vickie Marie Stevens and Mr. Sharold Ray Noble were united in marriage 7:30 p.m. Sept. 1st, in the Laurelville Church of God.

The Rev. Otis Clary of Murray City officiated the double ring, candlelight ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Stevens of Route 2, Laurelville and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Noble of Route 4, Circleville.

The bride's gown of white satin was designed and made by the bride. The bodice featured a V-neckline and long set-in sleeves, which in addition to the hemline were accented with double layers of white lace. The floor length veil was also designed and made by the bride. The headpiece was made from lace identical to that of the dress.

The bride's only jewelry was a two-toned cross necklace, a gift from the groom, and she carried a bouquet of red sweetheart roses and white lily of the valley atop a small Bible, a gift from her brother.

The half-hour music program preceding the ceremony was presented by Miss Patti Stump. The traditional wedding march was used as the bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She was given in marriage by her father and mother. "We've Only Just Begun" was used as a recessional at the close of the ceremony.

Maid of honor was Miss Barbara Jo Markel who was attired in a floor length red satin gown with a high waist, V-neckline, and long full sleeves. The gown was accented with white buttons.

Miss Cheryl Hettinger served as bridesmaid and was attired in a dress identical to that of the maid of honor. Miss Cindy Arledge, cousin of the bride and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Arledge of Route 2, Laurelville, and Miss Karen Noble, sister of the groom, were junior bridesmaids. They wore floor length dresses of red satin with high round necklines, empire waist lines, and long full sleeves. The dresses were accented with white satin ribbons.

Each attendant carried a single white rose and wore a white-gold cross necklace, a gift from the bride.

Miss Lisa Ann Huggins, cousin of the bride and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Huggins of Columbus, was the flower girl. She wore a dress identical to those of the junior bridesmaids and she also wore a white-gold cross given to her by the bride. She carried a white basket of red rose petals.

Mr. Gary Stevens, brother of the bride, was the best man. Mike Huggins, was the ring bearer.

Ushers were Mr. Robert Kerns, Mr. Tim Bigham, and Mr. Robbie Huggins. Miss Marlene Bode presided over the guest book.

Mrs. Stevens wore a street length knit dress of red and white. Mrs. Noble wore a two piece suit of red and white. Both mothers wore corsages of red sweetheart roses.

A reception followed the ceremony in the social room of the church. Hostesses were: Mrs. Leona Barnes and Mrs. Sarah Markel of Adelphi, Mrs. Becky Monroe and Mrs. Sharon Prentice, sisters of the groom, both of Columbus.

After their wedding trip to Kingsport, Tenn., the couple are to reside on Westphal Ave. in Columbus.

The new Mrs. Noble is a graduate of Zane Trace High School and will be a sophomore at Ohio State University. Mr. Noble is a graduate of Logan Elm High School and is employed by Mc-Nicholas Transfer of Youngstown.

Out of town guests were from Adelphi, Chillicothe, Circleville, Columbus, Lancaster, Murray City, and New Holland.

LONG ARM OF THE LAW—An English policeman uses a mirror on a stick to check the underside of a car for bombs in Winchester, England. Police have tightened security measures against the bombings that have plagued England.

Aboriginal Girl With Tribe; Taken From Foster Parents

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Nola Garanamba, a 7-year-old aboriginal girl taken from her white foster parents of six years and returned to her tribal family, today was reported generally puzzled by her new environment.

A nephew of the girl's aboriginal father reportedly wanted the youngster back in the village near Maningrida in Australia's far north because he had been paying the family regularly in return for a promise of future marriage.

Newsman who visited the settlement of crude huts found the girl playing with other youngsters amid the camp's squalor. She speaks only English and is not acquainted with the tribe's customs.

Nola said she would like to leave the settlement and return to her foster parents in Darwin. She said she especially missed the toys she had there.

The girl was taken from her foster parents, Athol and Ann Brown, two weeks ago by officials of the federal government's Aboriginal Affairs Department. She was transported 230 miles to Maningrida.

The government said Nola was given to the Browns when her real mother was taken ill six years ago and the girl was to be kept only six months. The government said it is investigating why Nola was permitted to remain with the Browns so long.

In Darwin, Mrs. Brown said she still is considering legal action for custody of Nola but that there appears little chance of success.

The youngster's aboriginal father, Jack Barbiaga, confirmed that Nola has been promised to his nephew as a bride since her birth but said the marriage would not occur for eight or 10 years.

Japan May Turn From Soybeans

WASHINGTON (AP) — American soybean farmers may see Japan, their biggest customer, turn partly to "petroprotein" or other chemical alternatives for livestock feed protein if scientists can sell the idea to the Tokyo housewife.

But, so far, the notion that livestock can be fed high-protein supplements made from petroleum or other chemical products has not gone over well with Japanese consumers, the Agriculture Department said today.

Secret Blasts Demo Party Endorsements

SOMERSET, Ohio (AP)— State Sen. Robert Secrest, D-20 Cambridge, has entered the Democratic party fracas between former astronaut John Glenn and the state executive committee concerning pre-primary endorsements.

Secrest, honored over the weekend at a Perry County banquet, criticized as stupid the party intention of making preprimary endorsements.

"I cannot believe there would be any conglomerate who would get together and try to pick a ticket for our party," said Secrest, a personal friend of Glenn's late father and former congressman.

"The people are smart enough to pick their own candidates," he said. "They need no advice from me and they need no advice from anybody in the state of Ohio."

Glenn clashed with Democratic Gov. John J. Gilligan and the state party organization Tuesday night over pre-primary endorsements for the U.S. Senate race next year.

Glenn, who has his eyes on the Senate primary next May, said they were trying to line up their own ticket and force him to run for lieutenant governor in 1974.

Glenn claims he has been threatened with political oblivion if he decides to seek the Senate seat and snub the party's office of the lieutenant governorship.

He said the charges were made at a meeting of the party's executive committee in Columbus.

The former astronaut, a native of New Concord, said the screening committee has been packed with supporters of Howard Metzenbaum of Cleveland.

Metzenbaum is expected to enter the 1974 Senate primary. He defeated Glenn in the May 1970 primary in a close race, but he then lost to Republican Robert Taft Jr. of Cincinnati in the November election.

Meanwhile, Glenn received support Saturday night in his unannounced campaign for Senate. Perry County Democrats declared their support for his candidacy.

Perry County is the first such county to offer its support to Glenn. It was one of 75 counties that voted for him in the 1970 primary.

However, Metzenbaum garnered his winning margin in the state's urban areas.

The Foreign Agricultural Service said in a report that recent shortages of fishmeal from Peru and the high price of U.S. soybeans have stimulated scientific effort to find long-range alternatives.

Most promising is yeast, including a type grown from a petroleum substance called n-paraffin. Japanese scientists have been experimenting with it for several years and in 1972 appeared to be on the verge of producing it commercially.

But the plan was suspended after Japanese consumers protested the so-called petroprotein had not been tested properly and that questions existed about its effects on humans who eat products from animals fed the substance.

Bruce L. Greenshields, a foreign demand specialist in the Economic Research Service, says in the report that the protein content in yeast derived from petroleum and other carbon sources can vary but that it averages between 55 and 60 per cent.

That is approximately the protein content of fishmeal. Soybeans provide 44 per cent protein.

Greenshields said that since Japan is not now producing petroprotein, there are no figures available to compare its costs directly with soybean meal or fishmeal.

"However, a rough estimation of the cost of inputs to produce it indicates that production costs would be substantially higher than those of fishmeal and soybean meal," he said.

Yeast protein is being made in limited quantities in the Soviet Union, Britain and France, the report said.

Japan, therefore, is expected to continue research and efforts to convince consumers that the material is suitable for livestock feeding.

Meantime, there is no indication that the development of petroprotein in Japan will soon shrink that market for U.S. soybeans. Last fiscal year, ended June 30, saw Japan buy 125 million bushels valued at $604 million.

Shipments for 1973-74 also are large and are expected to exceed last year's level, according to export bookings reported to the government.

Panel OKs Funding Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House conferees have agreed on a $9.9 billion funding compromise on farm, food stamp, school milk, environment and consumer protection programs.

The compromise contains $97 million for a special milk program for school children, the same figure the Senate approved but above the $9.3 billion in the House version.

The appropriations bill would provide the funds for the recently passed 1973 Farm Act.

It appropriates $408 billion above the Nixon administration budget request but represents a decrease of $2.8 billion from last year's spending level.

The agreement was announced Friday by members of the conference committee. After approval by the committee, it will go to both houses for a final vote.

Local FHA Office Loans $2.6 Million

The local Farmers Home Administration office extended $2.6 million in credit to the rural people of Pickaway and Ross counties during Fiscal Year 1973.

Wayne Lash, Farmers Home Administration supervisor, said his office processed individual housing loans to 102 families for $1,658,000.

Farmers in the area who lacked other sources of credit turned to Farmers Home Administration for $66,000 to purchase, develop, or refinance their farms and borrowed $110,000 for farm operating purposes. Lash stated that two community improvement projects received $776,000 during the year.

Lash said that Farmers Home Administration programs were being expanded this year. Under the Rural Development Legislation, the agency will add business and industrial guaranteed loans and insured loans for community facilities to their services.

Farmers Home Administration is the rural credit service of the United States Department of Agriculture and administers over 20 major credit programs for rural people. The local office serves Pickaway and Ross counties and is located at 1430 N. Court St.

Fumes Claim Ohio Couple

VANCEBURG, Ky. (AP) — The deaths of an elderly couple from Mansfield, Ohio, whose bodies were found Saturday in a camper-bus they were sleeping in, has been attributed to carbon monoxide poisoning.

A spokesman for Lewis County Coroner Paul Jordan said Sunday night that hospital tests showed the couple, Clarence G. Moore, 72, and his wife, Mary Elizabeth, 62, was caused by the gas which apparently leaked from a gas refrigerator in the camper.

The Moores, formerly of Vanceburg, were here to attend the funeral of one of Moore's brothers.

Medical Experts Track Cholera

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Disease-control specialists have followed some persons to the West Coast, some out to sea in a search for the origin of the nation's only cholera case in 62 years.

"Thus far, all tests have been negative," said Dr. Jack Weissman, epidemiologist heading the Center for Disease Control search.

A 51-year-old Port Lavaca, Tex., shrimper became severely ill Aug. 19 and was hospitalized in shock.

The next day, the disease center here was told the man might have cholera, and a specimen from the patient was flown to Atlanta.

Laboratory technicians diagnosed the case as cholera—the first known case in the United States since 1911.

"I was then dispatched to investigate," Weissman said in a recent interview.

He and three technicians began working with local health officials to find the chain of transmission that brought the disease to the man's mobile home near a Port Lavaca motel.

Meanwhile, the patient recovered fully. He asked that his name not be used in news stories, saying he did not want publicity.

Weissman said tests of the man's wife, three children and other relatives were negative.

The team did find cholera organisms in the man's septic tank and closed it.

When they found indications of a leak in the motel's water supply, which the patient had used for his mobile home, they closed the motel and began checking the guests for six weeks before the patient's illness.

Most of the guests were from Texas, but the center pursued some to California and Missouri to get specimens for cholera tests.

"We took samples of water from the Gulf of Mexico," Weissman said. "We

Foremen Attend Wittenberg U

Four area workers have completed Unit I of Wittenburg University's Management Development Program.

Attending the program from E. I. DuPont de Nemours and Company were John Garrison, works engineer foreman and J. Gordon Lloyd, maintenance foreman.

Two employees from U.S.S. Chemicals also attended. They are Harvey Jordon, molding training supervisor and Jerry Walters, finishing shift foreman.

The week-long programs concentrated in behavioral studies and motivation, communications and leadership, management functions and methods and economics and personal relations.

Training at the program is designed to provide men in the supervision field with management competency in handling their workers.

checked the shipping lanes since ships carrying people from cholera infected areas of the world put sewage into the water." No link was found to Italy's cholera epidemic.

"The patient also worked as a custodian in a public school," the epidemiologist said. "Fortunately, school wasn't open yet, but we tested 20 or 30 teachers with whom he might have had contact."

Weissman said this man had eaten in several restaurants and the team tested many persons who had eaten at the same places.

"We looked at the logs of ships (that had been in the area), to see if they had visited any areas in the world where there might have been cholera," he said.

"We checked the entire crew of 50 sailors on a ship from India since there are cholera cases in India."

Cholera no longer is the dread disease it once was because even severe cases respond to intravenous fluid and other forms of therapy and most cases are mild, he said.

Most of the persons contacted are cooperative, Weissman said. "One of the important things we could do was assure people they were not at risk."

Nation Of Islam Plane Crashes

GARY, Ind. (AP) — A Gary-based Black Muslim Constellation plane, used for air freight operations between Chicago and California, crashed on landing and burned early today at the Gary Municipal Airport.

The five persons aboard the plane — all believed to be crewmen — escaped serious injury.

Dr. William Douglas, president of the airport's Board of Commissioners, said the four-engine propeller craft belonged to the Nation of Islam and had been based in Gary about 1½ years.

Telemedicine Plan Starts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — More than a million Appalachia residents are in line for improved medical care under a television system that will link five Ohio hospitals.

Dr. Edward Foote of the Ohio Educational Television Network Commission said the two-way system between Ohio State University Hospital and four community hospitals will give rural Appalachia the same quality care available in major medical centers.

The system will allow transmission of medical data for diagnoses, consultation and training.

The other four hospitals in the system will be O'Bleness Hospital in Athens, Holzer Medical Center in Gallipolis, Athens Medical Center and the State Children's Center in Nelsonville.

Foote said other southeastern Ohio hospitals will be added to the system later. The Appalachia Regional Commission provided the system with $669,060 to pay construction and operation costs, Foote said.

Peron Easily Wins Argentine Election

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Thousands of Argentines danced, sang and shouted in the streets of Buenos Aires early today, celebrating the election of 77-year-old Juan D. Peron to the presidency from which the military ousted him 18 years ago.

Official returns from Sunday's election gave Peron 7,286,034 votes, or 61.68 per cent in 54,777 of the nation's 55,475 election districts.

Richard Balbin of the Radical Civic Union ran second with 2,877,587, or 24.44 per cent; Francisco Manrique had 1,440,049, or 12.19 per cent, and Juan Carlos Coral of the Socialist Workers' party had 187,002, or 1.58 per cent.

The outcome had never been in doubt; the only question was how big the winning margin would be.

Running with Peron was his third wife, Isabel Martinez, who when she takes office with her husband on Oct. 12 will become the Western Hemisphere's first woman vice president. Because of Peron's age and uncertain health, she could become the hemisphere's first woman president.

"I cannot say anything because the people have done it all," said Peron in a brief statement to newsmen. "Now is not the time for me to speak but the time for me to act."

He added that he might soon make "realistic changes in Argentina's economy, but the first order of business is political. After the political situation is settled, the economy will arrange itself."

Peron's opponents conceded the election before midnight when it became obvious that he would pass the 50 per cent plus one vote required for election on the first ballot.

Underlining Peron's position as the biggest force in Argentine political life, his win of almost landslide proportions far outdistanced the 49.6 per cent of the vote that his standin Hector J. Campora got in the election last March against the same three opponents. The previous military government barred Peron from that election, and Campora resigned July 13 to make way for his mentor.

Only a few incidents of violence were reported during the voting Sunday in contrast to guerrilla raids and union violence during the campaign. The tranquil polling on a bright spring day erupted into gleeful and peaceful victory celebrations shortly after the polls closed.

Illness Hits Supervisors At Company

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Union officials say some supervisors at Columbus Coated Fabrics plant have been struck by a nerve ailment that has spread throughout the plant.

Corwin Smith, president of Local 487 of the Textile Workers of America, said at least 73 workers have suffered weakness of arms, legs and fingers. Included in the total are four foremen.

Plant officials originally believed the illness was limited to print shop employees.

Company officials were unavailable Sunday.

They said the apparent cause of the ailment was a chemical used in dyeing cloth. They say use of the chemical has been discontinued.

Smith advised union members to insist on tests to determine if they have been affected.

"The illness is no longer confined to certain areas, but is scattered," Smith reported. He said plant officials no longer can advise employees that any part of the plant is safe.

The Borden subsidiary has undertaken a program to upgrade ventilation. But Dr. John Cashman, director of the Ohio Department of Health, said it will take several weeks before the safety program can be completed.

The plant employs nearly 1,000 workers.

Dismiss Report Prince Will Wed

LONDON (AP) — Buckingham Palace has dismissed as "pure newspaper speculation" a report that Prince Charles will become engaged to the only daughter of the Duke and Duchess of Wellington.

The News of the World, a mass circulation weekly, said Sunday that the 24-year-old prince, heir to the British throne, plans to marry Lady Jane Wellesley, 22. The Wellingtons, descendants of the British hero of Waterloo, are one of Britain's top families.

The Duchess of Wellington told reporters her daughter had been "flabbergasted and very embarrassed" by the report.

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel's dominant Labor party has unanimously chosen Premier Golda Meir to head the party's list of candidates in next month's elections, virtually assuring her of another four years in office.

In her acceptance speech, Mrs. Meir apparently quelled speculation that she may step down in mid-term. She said she is looking forward to another "four long years" as Israel's leader.

Mrs. Meir, 75, has often stated she wanted to retire to a desert kibbutz and live with her children and grandchildren. But she agreed to stay in office to avoid a party split.

MARION, Ohio (AP) — Police say the field search for the last of four men who escaped from the Marion county jail has been called off.

Two of the escapees were captured shortly after they escaped Friday night. The third was picked up Saturday night by Summit County deputies near his home.

The escape occurred when Charles Shepard and Robert Hoard Jr. overpowered a jailer and a dispatcher, then released Dunn and another prisoner, a deputy said.

Delta Queen Forfeits Race; Leaves Crowd Unhappy

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Lights out, whistles silent, the Delta Queen slunk into port Sunday night, loser of the first steamboat race here in 43 years—by default.

A spokesman for Greene Lines Steamers Inc., owners of the last overnight passenger carrier on inland waters, failed to make it in time for the race with the Belle of Louisville.

More than 300 persons paid $25 each for places on the two boats to the Northern Kentucky Jaycees for charity. The Jaycees offered refunds of $10.

The Delta Queen, tied 5-5 in ten years of racing the Belle during Derby Week at Louisville, broke a "monkey rudder" cable, and stopped near Aurora, Ind. The rudder is used in reverse steering.

When it was decided the Queen would not make the 4 p.m. racing time, the Queen's owners defaulted. Those who purchased tickets got a ride on the Belle over the 10-mile race course on the Ohio River.

Thousands lined the shores, many of them booing when only the Belle showed on the course.

Robert Lias, who made a trip from Cleveland to see the race with his family complained, "This is the second time we have tried to see the queen. The first time we couldn't find the public landing."

Lee Gabbard, a security guard, said he had to make the announcement of the cancellation over his cruiser public address system.

"I almost had to lock myself in my car," Gabbard said. "I thought I was going to get lynched," adding that the people were "pretty mad."

Most embarrassed was Capt. Ernest Wagner, master of the Queen. He'd been on vacation and planned to join his ship for the race.

He had to ride the Belle and said sheepishly, "I'd like another chance next year."

"It was a shame, but these things do happen," said Capt. Charles Brasher of the Belle. "I'd like to give them another chance next year."

"Maybe there'll be more excitement about it."

Gasoline Station Close Up In Indiana; Drivers Angry

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The leader of a planned week-long service station shutdown in Central Indiana may be one of the first motorists to feel its effect.

"I closed up the station last night and drove home before I realized my gauge was on empty," said Richard F. Messer, president of the Greater Indianapolis Gasoline Dealers Association.

Messer said as many as 400 stations may be closed through at least Friday in a protest of Phase Four economic controls. The unannounced shutdown here began Sunday at midnight, catching drivers off-guard, unprepared and generally angry.

Messer said he forgot to fill his truck up, but added he doesn't plan to return to his station this week. Anyway, he said, his wife filled her car up before the shutdown began.

"Dealers will meet again Friday to re-evaluate the situation," Messer said. The shutdown will make "quite a financial loss" for dealers, he said, but

Ohio Firm Awarded Presidential Honor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Columbus firm, Industrial Nucleonics Corp., has been presented the President's "E" Award for outstanding achievement in the export business.

S. John Byington of the U.S. Department of Commerce, representing President Nixon, made the award.

The firm manufactures and distributes management information systems.

added that was preferable to closing businesses permanently "because the government won't let us make a profit."

About one-third of the city's retailers — mostly independents — remained open today, but Messer said his group has asked that members of the Teamsters Union not deliver gasoline to those stations that remain open.

There was no immediate comment from Teamsters officials.

Meanwhile, motorists formed long lines at the stations which remained open Sunday and independent dealers in the city reported business from "brisk" to "panic buying."

40 & 8 Gets Commander

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Carle Wells of Atlanta, Ga., is the new national commander of the 40 & 8, auxiliary social organization of the American Legion.

Wells was elected at the group's 54th annual convention here which ended Saturday.

He succeeds Ralph Stovall of Memphis, Tenn.

The convention drew 1,759 delegates from 50 states, Japan, Panama, Germany, France and the District of Columbia.

The 40 & 8 also amended its constitution to eliminate the word "white" from admissions requirements. A spokesman said admission of blacks would be up to the individual voitures or chapters.

Phone Cables Slashed

MARION, Ohio (AP)—A spokesman for the General Telephone Co. says 13 cable cuts in five Ohio counties disrupted local and long-distance service to about 3,000 subscribers this weekend.

Don Detweiler reported cables were discovered cut Sunday morning in Athens, Pickaway, Mercer, Van Wert and Marion counties.

Two amplifying devices atop poles between Athens and New Marshfield were shot out with a 30-caliber weapon, Detweiler said. The breakdown disrupted long-distance service to more than 400 customers in New Marshfield, Detweiler said.

No negotiation sessions have been held between the company and striking communications workers since Sept. 9, when a union leader cancelled an expected announcement that the strike was over.

About 2,800 operators, installers and repairmen have been off the job since July 16 in a dispute over wages and an agency shop.

Detweiler said the company is waiting for negotiators for the Communications Workers of America to contact them or a federal mediator about more talks.

The National Labor Relations Board sent a representative to the company's Marion headquarters last Wednesday, Detweiler said. The representative was on a fact-finding mission related to a complaint the company lodged against the union. The company claims the union reneged on a "handshake" agreement to end the strike.

Picketer Hit By Bus At McArthur

McARTHUR, Ohio (AP) — A striking Vinton County schoolteacher was hit by a school bus this morning while picketing at Vinton County High School, authorities said.

Robert Flesher was treated at a Chillicothe hospital and released.

School officials told authorities Flesher deliberately threw himself in front of the bus, but other picketers said Flesher was struck when the bus moved down the street.

School administrators and teachers also gave differing accounts of an incident between a picketing football coach and the McArthur chief of police Homer Hayburn.

The administrators said the staff member, whom they identified as John Crook, deliberately tackled Hayburn and the police chief punched him in the mouth.

The Vinton Local Teachers Association claimed the law enforcement officers used clubs to shove the teachers into the street and struck Crook.

School administrators claim 65 per cent of the system's 2,400 students are in school today. They reported 27 teachers and an undisclosed number of substitutes were conducting classes.

Eighty-six of the 113 teachers in the system walked out Friday in the dispute over dismissal policies and grievance procedures.

Nixon Orders Gasoline Price Action Speeded

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon told the Cost of Living Council today to act this week to increase the retail price of gasoline.

Acting as some service stations closed down to protest against Phase 4 pricing policies, the President got assurances from Cost of Living Council Director John Dunlop that the panel would try to speed up action on the issue.

White House Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said the council already had concluded that an increase in retail gasoline prices was needed and had been following a timetable that would have put the increase into effect Oct. 2.

"The President asked Dr. Dunlop to expedite this matter...to review the situation as quickly as possible and get a decision out this week," Warren said.

Wallace Vetoes Own Pension

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace has vetoed a bill passed during the recent session of the Alabama Legislature which would have provided a pension for governors disabled in office.

Wallace, who is paralyzed in both legs as a result of bullet wounds from an assassination attempt, had expressed his opposition to the proposal during the legislative session. It would have provided a pension equal to three-fourths of the $25,000 annual salary paid Alabama governors.

Since the legislature is no longer in session, the veto can't be overridden.

Corruption Probes Cross Nation

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Watergate and the Maryland kick-back probe involving Vice President Spiro T. Agnew have received the lion's share of headlines on corruption in government. But the war against illicit activities by public officials is being waged on many other legal battlegrounds as well.

An Associated Press survey showed federal and county grand juries in areas from Pennsylvania to Arizona are investigating allegations of wrongdoing involving officials at varying levels of government.

The Arizona case, which drew national attention, involves Sen. Paul Fannin, a Republican, who was arrested last November and charged with driving while intoxicated.

The charge was dropped after three physicians submitted sworn statements that a drug the senator was taking could have affected the results of a breathalyzer test.

Maricopa County Atty. Moise Berger refuted the charge in August, however, and Fannin pleaded guilty. The senator was sentenced to one day in the county jail and was fined $110.

A county grand jury probe is under way into the circumstances by which the original charge was dismissed. Fannin testified before the panel and reportedly told the grand jury he was unaware of alleged political pressure to stop the investigation.

Most of the probes into possible political corruption concern lesser-known figures. Though they have not drawn so much attention as Watergate or the Baltimore grand jury investigation of allegations that Agnew was involved in a kickback scandal while an elected official in Maryland, the issues have a familiar ring.

World Bank Plan Aired

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — World Bank President Robert S. McNamara today announced a five-year, $22-billion lending program to help developing nations fight poverty and build their economies.

But McNamara said the program clearly isn't enough, although it represents a 40 per cent increase in the bank's lending over the past five years and will finance 1,000 projects.

Speaking to representatives of more than 100 nations at the opening of the annual meeting of the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank, McNamara called on the rich industrial nations to step up what he called "acutely inadequate" development assistance. And he said the poor nations will have to make reforms to make sure that their poverty-ridden peoples are helped.

The World Bank president warned that his institution may run short of money for new easy-term loans after July 1 unless the major industrial nations get legislative approval for their contributions.

His remark, inserted into a speech to the representatives, appeared designed to rally support for the lending program, in trouble because the 25 industrial nations that support it are haggling over their shares for the next three years.

NORWALK, Ohio (AP) — James Walters, 48, principal of the South Central High School here for five years, collapsed and died Saturday night while attending the school's football game with Norwalk St. Paul.

With the price of chicken on the rise, chicken growers are keeping an eye on an experiment in which French breeders succeeded in producing dwarf pullets, whose bird-like appetites sharply cut feed costs at the same time the tiny hens produce normal-sized chicks to be fattened for marketing.

On July 17, for example, a county grand jury recommended criminal indictment against Mayor John R. Coder of Williamsport, Pa., alleging that he tapped the telephone of a now-retired police captain in an effort to get him off the force.

The grand jury recommended that Coder, a Republican, and John M. Samony, the city public safety director, be charged with criminal conspiracy, intercepting and recording telephone conversations and false swearing. The district attorney filed charges late in July.

In Michigan, a county probate judge, a state senator and a liquor salesman are under indictment on charges of conspiracy to bribe an official of the state liquor commission.

The charges against State Sen. Charles N. Youngblood, a Democrat from Detroit; Wayne County Probate Court Judge Frank S. Szymanski, and salesman Louis Pappas were handed down by a grand jury last February and the case is expected to come to trial shortly.

The three men are accused of conspiring to bribe an official of the state Liquor Control Commission to obtain liquor licenses for Borman's Inc., operator of Farmer Jack supermarkets.

A federal grand jury in Oklahoma City indicted the state treasurer, Leo Winters, a Democrat, last May 31 on charges of conspiracy to commit extortion, mail fraud and misuse of bank funds.

Mineral Crisis Next For Nation?

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The president of Hanna Mining Co. says the nation will face a "mineral crisis" after the energy crisis, and he said the pressure would probably force compromises between the mining industry and environmental groups.

But Walter A. Marting, 63, said the mining industry already was pollution conscious.

"The mining industry is bending over backwards to be a good citizen," Marting said. "We want clean water and air just as much as anyone else. It's better for us and our employes as well as the general public."

Local PPK Registration Ends Friday

There is just one week remaining for youngsters in Circleville to register for the local Punt, Pass & Kick Competition.

Rod Bell Motor Sales Co., Ford Dealer sponsoring the popular youth activity in this area, said that registrations would be taken through Friday. The Circleville PP&K Competition is scheduled for Saturday at South Court Street Junior High School football field at 10 a.m.

"Although time is growing short, any youngster eight through 13 years of age can still compete," said Ed Warning. "All a contestant need do is come into our showroom, accompanied by a parent or guardian, and fill out the PP&K registration form. There's no entry fee or charge of any kind, and that goes for all six levels of competition, up to and including the National Finals."

Warning pointed out that trophies will be awarded for first, second and third place in the local competition in each of the six age groups. Increasing the youngsters' chances of winning one of the 18 trophies is the fact that each contestant competes only against others of the same age. And since there is no body contact, an entrant's size is not as important as his ability to punt, pass and place-kick for distance with accuracy.

Winners can continue on up through the Zone, District, Area and Division contests to the National Finals. It's possible that one or more Local winners could wind up in the Finals, which will be held at the Super Bowl Game in Houston on January 13.

When contestants register, each entrant gets a free PP&K Tips Book. It contains helpful pointers from the pros on punting, passing and kicking. In the 1973 edition are suggestions from NFL stars Jerrel Wilson, Norm Snead and Chester Marcel, plus Head Coaches Don Shula and Dan Davine. Complete PP&K rules and suggested conditioning exercises for contestants are also included.

This is the 13th anniversary year for PP&K. From its inception, the youth activity has been sponsored by the Ford Dealers of America and the National Football League. In that time more than 9,350,000 youngsters have taken part in PP&K, making it the largest and fastest growing activity of its kind in America.

Bruce Gould Grabs

New Bremen Victory

NEW BREMEN, Ohio (AP) — Bruce Gould of Milford took the lead on the 178th lap and never surrendered it on his way to winning the Dayton 500 on Sunday at New Bremen Speedway.

Gould's 1971 Ford was out in front except for pit stops after Louisville's Bobby Watson crashed his 1973 Camaro into the guard rail between the third and fourth turns.

Dodgers Slip Past Reds, 6-4

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Willie Crawford announced in the Los Angeles clubhouse before Sunday's game with the Cincinnati Reds, "We don't want them popping any champagne at our park."

The Reds didn't sip the bubbly, losing to the Dodgers 6-4 and now return home to Riverfront Stadium tonight where they hope to clinch their third western division title in four years. The defending National League champions have already clinched at least a tie for the title.

"We're not letting it get away," promised Cincinnati Manager Sparky

Anderson after the Dodgers ended a seven-game losing streak against Cincinnati.

"Sure, I'd have like to have had it over but nothing's going to happen. Believe me, it won't. This has been a satisfying year, probably my most satisfying yet because of all our injuries and our bad start. So nothing's going to happen now."

Steve Garvey and Tom Paciorek slugged two-run homers and Tommy John earned his 15th victory, the most he's ever won in the big leagues.

"Maybe someone will hijack their plane," joked John, explaining about the only avenue remaining for the Dodgers.

Friday the Pittsburgh Pirates lost their fourth straight game and first place to the New York Mets—and immediately left the country.

Then the Pirates turned up in Canada, asking for partial amnesty which they got with 6-3 and 7-4 wins over the Montreal Expos.

They'll reluctantly go back to Pittsburgh and they'd love to visit either Baltimore or Oakland, preferably in early Autumn, but under no conditions will they return to New York.

The Pirates, like so many other out-of-towners, just had a bad experience in New York.

But their triumph in Canada moved them to one-half game behind the bullies from New York, while the Mets were beating up the Cardinals for the second straight day, 5-2.

Elsewhere in the NL, Philadelphia downed Chicago 9-7; Atlanta crushed Houston 10-2; San Diego outscored San Francisco 11-9 and Los Angeles stopped Cincinnati 6-4.

When the Pirates crossed the border, they left their Met losses behind them. Willie Stargell's three-run homer capped a four-run outburst that carried the Pirates to their victory.

In the second game, Richie Zisk belted his first major league grand slam homer, highlighting a six-run fifth inning that gave Dock Ellis his first victory since Aug. 5.

The Pirates with a record of 77-76 have lost one less game than the Mets, who are 79-77. Pittsburgh could take the division title by winning its remaining nine games.

Meanwhile, Wayne Garrett slashed a two-run triple, knocking in the tying and go-ahead runs in the sixth inning to help the Mets to their sixth straight victory, 5-2 over St. Louis.

Both Miamis Score Upsets

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

When things get a little chilly come winter there may be some folks in Texas and Indiana longing for Miami, but Darrell Royal and Alex Agase probably won't be among them.

Miami—both the Florida and Ohio versions—is a dirty word these days in Austin, home of the University of Texas' perennial Southwest Conference champs, and in Lafayette, Ind., where Purdue University sits in all its Big Ten splendor.

The reason for all the distaste is a pair of upsets over the past weekend. The University of Miami of Coral Gables, Fla., upended the sixth-ranked Texas Longhorns 20-15 while Miami University of Oxford, Ohio, a member of the...hear the Big Ten buffs snicker... Mid-American Conference, stunned Purdue 24-19.

It marked the second year in a row Purdue has lost to a MAC team. Bowling Green took the Boilermakers 20-17 last season and they haven't stopped laughing yet in the Southeastern Conference and points west.

Except for Texas, things remained fairly normal elsewhere in college football's Top Ten. Top-ranked Southern California clipped Georgia Tech 23-6 and runnerup Nebraska used three fourth-quarter touchdowns to overtake 14th-rated North Carolina State 31-14.

Ohio State, ranked third, was idle—so was No. 9 Oklahoma—while fifth-ranked Michigan swamped Stanford 47-10. No. 7 Penn State trimmed Navy 39-0, eighth-rated Notre Dame belted Northwestern 44-0 and No. 10 Tennessee downed Army 37-18.

Miami of Florida used three touchdowns by Woody Thompson—two one-yard plunges and one eight-yarder—and recovered five of Texas' eight fumbles to offset a 153-yard, two-touchdown performance by the losers' Roosevelt Leaks.

It was a smashing debut for Miami's Pete Elliott, out of coaching since the mid-1960s. Miami was thought to have a suicide schedule which also includes the likes of Alabama, Notre Dame,

Blanda, Raiders Stop Miami, 12-7

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

"We wanted to play them last year and stop the streak but we didn't get the chance. But now we're the team that did it."

That was Oakland Coach John Madden, whose Raiders finally shattered Miami's slowly tarnishing image of invincibility Sunday.

They didn't exactly overpower the Super Bowl champion Dolphins. In fact, the only thing that got them on the scoreboard all day was a 46-year-old foot belonging to George Blanda. But it got them there four times.

And that got the Raiders a 12-7 victory over Miami, halting the Dolphins' regular-season and playoff winning streak at 18 games.

So, until some other "dynasty" comes along, the Dolphins and the Chicago Bears of 1933-4 and 1941-2 will share that National Football League record.

In Sunday's other games, the St. Louis Cardinals stunned Washington 34-27; the New York Jets blitzed Baltimore 34-10 but suffered a greater loss when Joe Namath suffered a shoulder separation; the San Diego Chargers walloped Buffalo 34-7; the Pittsburgh Steelers bombed Cleveland 33-6; the Los Angeles Rams smothered Atlanta 31-0; the Cincinnati Bengals topped Houston 24-10; the Kansas City Chiefs nipped New England 10-7; the Minnesota Vikings turned back Chicago 22-13; the San Francisco 49ers outlasted Denver 36-34; the New York Giants and Philadelphia Eagles tied 23-23 and the Detroit Lions and Green Bay Packers played to a 13-13 draw. The Dallas Cowboys host the New Orleans Saints tonight.

Hubert Green Winner Of B.C. Open Match

ENDICOTT, N.Y. (AP) — "This cat's gonna get me," Hubert Green thought as he went into the last half of his final round in the $100,000 B.C. Open golf championship.

But that "cat"—Dwight Nevil—did not, despite his splurge of birdies Sunday.

"When I birdied the 11th, I knew I was in good shape," said Green, winner of $20,000 to become the tenth pro golfer to top the $100,000 earnings mark this year.

Flaget Fails In SVC Bid

Bishop Flaget remained the only member of the Ross County League not to be admitted to the Scioto Valley Conference after being turned down by the league in its bid for membership. At a league meeting, two schools voted against Flaget's admittance, mainly on the grounds that Flaget lacked two major sports, football and boys track. A unanimous vote is needed for admittance to the league. New league officers elected at the meeting were: William Damron, president from Zane Trace; Bob DeVoe, vice-president from Westfall; and James McGuire, secretary-treasurer from Huntington.

Vinton County Teachers Strike

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 Two unions representing striking Youngstown school employees have reached agreement, but the schools remain closed today as a strike by 1,000 teachers continues. Also on strike are teachers in the 2,400-pupil Vinton County system. The Vinton County schools were ordered opened today despite the strike, and Supt. Ken Christopher said teachers who fail to report for work will be fired. In Youngstown, Local 1143A of the Public School Employees Union, representing nearly 100 teacher aides, reached agreement with the school board Sunday. Local 1143, representing 350 bus drivers and custodians, ratified their new agreement Saturday.

Bearcats Drop Tilt To Villanova

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 Cincinnati football Coach Tony Mason blamed himself for the Bearcats' 14-7 loss to Villanova Saturday. "I made too many mistakes," the rookie mentor said. "The kids didn't lose this. I must have lacked something."
 It was a tight defensive battle, with Cincinnati making the worst mistakes, losing the ball four times on a pass interception and twice on fumbles. In the only Mid-American Conference game played Saturday, Kent State rolled over Ohio University 35-7 behind the passing of sophomore quarterback Greg Kokal.
 Other MAC teams made respectable showings in nonleague action as Miami upset Purdue 24-19, Bowling Green whipped Dayton 31-16 and Toledo edged Central Michigan 23-21.
 Cincinnati bounced back from a 14-0 deficit with a 76-yard march and touchdown on a 13-yard draw play in the fourth quarter.
 Then the Bearcats recovered an on-side kick with 2:30 left to play, but the tenacious Villanova defense stopped the drive on the 22-yard-line.

 The Golden Flash's Kokal hit on 14 straight passes in one stretch and heaved a pair of touchdown aeriels in leading Kent State over Ohio. He connected for a total of 207 yards.
 Miami scored two times in the final quarter, both on touchdowns by junior fullback Chuck Varner, for its comeback victory over Purdue.
 Bowling Green's attack against Dayton was led by senior quarterback Reid Lampert who tossed three touchdown passes.
 Toledo topped Central Michigan by scoring with less than four minutes left to play on a 79-yard pass play from Gene Swick to tight end Don Seymour.
 Two Ohio teams kept their winning streaks going Saturday.
 Heidelberg extended its string to 13 straight by trimming Otterbein 21-14 on a touchdown with 2:43 remaining on the clock. Ashland humiliated Edinboro State 37-0 for its 14th triumph in a row.

action Saturday saw Kenyon downing Washington & Jefferson 28-12 and Thiel thumping Case Western Reserve 54-14, while John Carroll and Allegheny wound up in a 7-7 tie.
 In the Hoosier-Buckeye Conference, it was Hanover over Findlay 14-12 and Bluffton over Manchester 18-6.

Landry After 100th Win
 DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys try to give Coach Tom Landry a milestone 100th National Football League victory tonight in a nationally televised match with the lowly New Orleans Saints who limp into Texas Stadium after absorbing the worst defeat in their brief history.
 Landry has a 99-76-6 record in his 13 years as the only coach Dallas has ever had. Landry and the Cowboys stumbled through a 0-11-1 season in 1960. However, since 1966, Dallas has 75 victories—more than any other NFL team during that period.
 Nine other coaches have posted 100 or more victories in the NFL. Landry has one distinction no other coach owns—he has taken Dallas to seven consecutive NFL playoffs. Dallas has won six division titles, two NFC conference crowns, and one NFL title in Super Bowl VI.
 New Orleans was bombed 62-7 last week by Atlanta and should be in a fighting mood after a roasting by the fans and new Coach John North, who said "When you play this bad the Little Sisters of the Poor could beat you."
 Saints' quarterback Archie Manning suffered five interceptions in his poorest performance as a professional.
 North went on television in New Orleans Monday to apologize for the humiliation.
 Landry said the Saints will provide a

 Evans was being held under recommended bond of $10,000. He faces a second charge of discharging a firearm in the city.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — "Needles and Pins" is a comedy series about Manhattan's ladies garment industry. "The Brian Keith Show" is a comedy series about a pediatrician in Hawaii. They have two things in common.

Both made their season premier on NBC Friday night and both need to go back and practice comedy until they get it right.

"The Brian Keith Show" is a revamped version of last year's "Little People." Ravamp here means to reduce the kid stuff and toss a stuffy allergist in the cast to catch the adult hay fever trade.

"Needles and Pins," on the other hand, is an original. It also is awful, despite a talented cast that includes Norman Fell as a dress manufacturer and Louis Nye as his weird brother-in-law.

The primary virtue of the show is that it introduces an excellent newcomer, Deirdre Lenihan, a blue-eyed, red-haired pixie of an actress who reminds one strongly of a low-key Shirley MacLaine.

She plays a fresh-out-of-college dress designer from Nebraska who comes to the Big Apple to seek employment. Her father is a friend of Fell, to whom she immediately goes for advice.

And immediately she is mistaken for a model by a lecherous salesman for the firm (Bernie Kopell). He commences operating.

Well, friends and neighbors, the next 20 minutes are spent trying to prove that the ladies garment business is frantic, fast-paced and full of colorful characters and jangling telephones.

By the time it all ends, we know that the pattern-maker grumbles at the cutter, that the brother-in-law is dense and that Miss Lenihan is employed by Fell and embarking on a career he'll teach her "from the ground up."

The writers of this opus should join his class. They've wasted the time of some good thespians, one of whom describes a colleague as one might describe the first show — "10 per cent brains and 90 per cent polyester."

They Have Gone Batty

TORONTO (AP) — This city has suddenly taken an interest in the Dracula legend.

The Count Dracula Society here was formed last May and since then has attracted more than 100 members. It plans to promote serious study of the legend, Dracula movies and plays and Gothic literature.

He Lost That Magnetic Touch

BOLTON, England (AP) — A thief tried to steal a safe containing $7,500 from a scrap merchant's office here by hoisting it through the roof with a giant electro-magnetic crane.

He was caught before completing the task and was fined for causing damage to the roof.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Wonderful aspects to finish anything underway as well as to study new methods for starting some venture that appeals to you, but you need to think over carefully.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Get an early start on completing duties at home or elsewhere. Later in the day, get your wardrobe in fine order for fall.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Good day to repay important social debts and retain favor of those you like. Make your personal life more ideal. Clear away any barnacles.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Plan how to get your home operating on a more honest level and have greater harmony there. Show more friendliness toward good relatives for future good.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Listen to what associates suggest. Complete plans already started. Make appointments important to your welfare. Read tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Deal with others financially in a very honest fashion. You can then begin an uptrend in monetary matters. Think logically.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You are a stickler for precision and order, and this is the right day to exercise such qualities. After work is completed, join good friends. Be more courteous.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Get things clean and in working order for more harmony. Fulfill any promises made and please others. Look into new ideas tonight.

Agnew Defense Fund Organized

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew apparently intends to stay in office and fight charges of political corruption, weekend developments suggest.

The vice president's lawyers were reportedly prepared to file motions in Baltimore's federal court this week to halt the investigation of Agnew.

Gasoline Shutdowns May Spread

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Spokesmen for a nationwide gasoline retailers association say service station shutdowns may spread across the country unless dealers get immediate relief from Phase 4 price controls.

Protest closings were expected to affect the Washington, D.C., and Indianapolis metropolitan areas today while thousands of gas stations stayed shut down for a third day in California.

"If we don't get immediate relief—within a day or two—I'm afraid we're going to inconvenience the public," said Charles Binstadt, president of the National Congress of Petroleum Retailers. He commented after a gathering of service station operators Sunday in Chicago.

The closed meeting included representatives of gasoline retailers from about 40 states.

Binstadt said that in view of court orders barring organized shutdowns in some areas, the petroleum congress would continue to urge members to "act responsibly."

"Some (service station operators) are already defying the law," he said. "We're trying to keep them from defying the law. But unless we get immediate relief, we no longer can be responsible for the actions of our irate dealers."

The dealers are protesting because Phase 4 controls prohibit them from passing on to their customers recent one-cent per gallon increases in whole-sale gasoline prices.

Meanwhile, an Agnew aide disclosed that an "Agnew defense fund" is being organized.

A poll released on Sunday indicates that there is considerable public support for Agnew to retain his office. The Gallup poll taken for Newsweek magazine showed 66 per cent of those questioned felt Agnew should not resign.

But only 40 per cent of the 431 persons who participated in the poll thought President Nixon was being fair to Agnew. Thirty-five per cent said he was not being fair to the vice president and 25 per cent had no opinion.

Administration officials continue to remain tight-lipped about the Agnew case.

Presidential counsellor Melvin Laird refused Sunday to answer questions on the vice president's situation when interviewed on the CBS-TV show "Issues and Answers."

However, Laird said allegations that he had leaked to the press stories that Agnew would resign "are false. I had no such conversations (with reporters)." Agnew's former press secretary, Vic Gold, accused Laird last week of being the source of such stories.

Agnew's lawyer, Judah Best, was quoted on Saturday as saying the vice president "is going to defend his constitutional office."

Agnew has denied allegations growing out of a federal grand jury probe in Baltimore that he took political kickbacks in exchange for granting construction contracts while he was governor of Maryland and chief executive of Baltimore County.

3 Injured In Two Accidents

Two injury accidents were investigated by Pickaway County sheriff's Deputies over the weekend with one driver cited.

Sheriff's Deputy James Fite cited Jeffrey L. Keaton, 19, Route 1, New Holland for driving left of center when he was involved in a two-car accident 3:15 p.m. Sunday on U.S. Route 22 west.

William B. Lindsay, 20, Columbus, was turning left from Route 22 onto the Williamsport-Crownover Mill Road when the accident occurred.

Keaton was attempting to pass the Lindsay auto when he struck it in the side.

Keaton received a lacerated finger and forehead and was referred to his doctor.

Two persons were injured in a single-car accident 9:10 p.m. Sunday on the Circleville-Kingston Road.

Leo G. Kepler, 19, Columbus, driver of the car, was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital West, Columbus, for a fractured pelvis and lacerated hand and forehead received in the single mishap.

Kepler was traveling south on the Circleville-Kingston Road, approaching Route 361 when the auto's headlight's apparently went out.

The vehicle slid thru the intersection into a ditch.

Also injured in the accident was a passenger, Roger D. Willard, 22, Adelphi. Willard was taken to Chillicothe Hospital for a fractured left arm and lacerated left arm.

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy James Fite investigated the accident.

Police, OSP Cars Collide

Two police officers suffered whiplash injuries when a Circleville Police cruiser and a State Highway Patrol car collided while in pursuit of a traffic violator. The accident occurred at 8:51 p.m. Saturday on Route 23 3½ miles south of the Route 22 junction.

Both cars were southbound on Route 23 chasing another vehicle for a traffic violation. Sgt. Wesley Barton, 39, 407 S. Pickaway St., and Ptl. Hugh Black, 22, 157 Watt St. rear, of the Circleville Police Department slowed and Ptl. Robert L. Dobb, 29, Route 5, Circleville, driving the Highway Patrol car, was unable to stop. The Highway Patrol car struck the rear of the police cruiser causing damage to both vehicles.

After striking the cruiser, Dobb's car went off the left side of the road and into the grass median, came back onto the road and spun around.

Barton and Black claimed whiplash injuries and were taken to Berger Hospital where they were treated and released.

Sgt. G. H. Jones of the State Highway Patrol reports that the accident is still under investigation.

WHICH HIGH-QUALITY PROTEIN FOOD COSTS THE LEAST PER POUND? ANSWER: EGGS!

Consider this: A dozen large eggs weigh about 1 1/2 lbs. Recent prices per dozen were 90¢ to $1.09. Translated into price per pound that would be 60¢ to 70¢ lb. Compare that with today's prices for meats and other protein foods.

Like meats and milk products, eggs supply high-quality protein. Egg protein is so near perfection that scientists often use it as a standard to measure the value of protein in other foods. In fact, two eggs have about as much protein as two ounces of cooked hamburger.

Eggs are an easily and completely digested food for all ages. With only about 80 calories per large egg, they are fine for people watching their weight. One caution, however. A person with a high cholesterol condition should consult his doctor about the use of eggs.

At Kroger, we believe you have a right to know such facts about foods you buy.

NOW! SEE THE FRESHNESS FOR YOURSELF

Consumers rightly expect the foods they buy to be fresh and good. That's why Kroger pampers and protects and rushes the foods we sell to stores at their peak of freshness.

Because we do take such care, Kroger is confident of the freshness of the foods we sell. That's why we can guarantee them on a replacement or money-back basis.

And that is why we open date foods for freshness. Some 1900 foods sold by Kroger now carry an open date... easy-to-read, such as AUG 30... to let you know the last day a product will be sold so it will stay fresh for an average usage period (or longer) after you buy it and carry it home.

For more than a year, Kroger has been open-dating foods—everything from milk, eggs and bread to many items other grocers don't open date, such as jelly, snack crackers and peanut butter. Now that same service has been broadened to include pre-packaged fresh fruits and vegetables and fresh meats. They'll all carry the freshness date so you can see for yourself how fresh they are.

At Kroger, we believe that consumers have the right to know more about the foods they buy. We're open-dating more foods than just about anybody else in the country. This is one more Kroger service designed to help you—the consumer.

WE HEAR YOU
... and we're trying to help!
